2006 Outlook

NINTH YEAR UNDER BROWN: With an 83-19 (.814) record in eight seasons at UT, Mack Brown is off to the best coaching start in UT history and has posted the nation's top record during that stretch. Even more impressive, Brown has led the Horns to a 56-8 (.875) mark over the last five seasons, which is also the best nationally. That stretch includes four 11-win seasons (2001-02 and 2004-05), which matched the school record prior to the Horns record-setting 13-win campaign last season. Texas is the only school in the nation that has posted at least 10 wins in each of the last five seasons (a UT record). Brown is the lone coach to lead his team to nine (or more) victories in 10 straight seasons.

STRING OF SUCCESS: Following Texas' 2005 National Championship and final No. 1 ranking, Texas has finished the year ranked among the nation's Top Six four of the last five seasons and among the Top 12 in each of the last six seasons, a Longhorn best. You have to go back to Darrell Royal's string of success in the late 1960s, when the Horns finished among the Top Five four times out of five years (1968-72) to equal that consistency in UT history.

20-GAME WINNING STREAK: Texas' victory over USC in the Rose Bowl marked the Longhorns' 20th straight win dating back to 2004. The 20-game winning streak, which is the nation's longest heading into the season, is the Horns' longest under Mack Brown and the second-longest in school history, trailing only a 30-game run from 1968-70. Of the 20 wins, nine have come against teams ranked in the Top 25.

LONGHORN RETURNEES: The Longhorns return seven starters on offense, seven on defense and 40 lettermen (18 offense/21 defense/1 special teams) from their 2005 National Championship team. Among the returning offensive/defensive starters, UT welcomes back 15 players at 14 positions who have combined for 253 career starts (116 offense/137 defense). Mack Brown

At a press conference prior to the Big 12 Championship game in 1999, which matched Mack Brown's surprising Texas Longhorns against national power Nebraska, folks asked if Brown's two-year old program had arrived.

"No," he said, noting his team was a significant underdog. "We have won some important games, but we are just visiting the neighborhood (of college football's elite). What we want to do is buy a house there."

With a consistency of success unmatched by any other program over the last several years, culminating with a National Championship in 2005, Brown's teams have not only purchased property, they have thrown a party and invited the whole wide world to an open house.

The dramatic 41-38 victory over Southern California in the BCS National Championship game last year gave the Longhorns their first national title since 1970 and extended Texas' winning streak to 20 games.

The calendar year of 2005 had already seen some unique "firsts" in the Texas football program, as well as a return to a couple of places the Longhorns had not been in quite awhile. At a tradition-rich university such as Texas, it is rare to have the opportunity to do something that has never been done before. That was what made the Longhorns' victory over Michigan in their first-ever Rose Bowl appearance and their 2005 victory at Ohio State in the two powers initial meeting, so special for Mack Brown and his UT football program.

Before the Rose Bowl win in 2006 over USC, the 38-37 victory over the Wolverines in Texas' first BCS game was another notch in Brown's remarkable record as a head football coach. The back-to-back BCS victories marked a high point in a career which includes success at every level, including the rare accomplishment of building Top Five programs at two different institutions.

With three of his last five teams ranked among the Top Five nationally, Brown has become one of only a handful of coaches in NCAA history to lead two different teams into the elite top five. Brown, whose 1997 North Carolina team was ranked No. 4 nationally, is only the second to do it within a five-year period, and the only man to accomplish it so quickly in the post-World War II era.

After eight seasons as the Texas head coach, Brown's teams have strung together the most successful stint in Texas Football since the 1960s. With the 13-0 season in 2005 and an 11-1 finish in 2004, Texas has now won at least 10 games in five consecutive seasons (also 11-2 in 2001, 11-2 in 2002, 10-3 in 2003) for the first time in school history.

In his eight seasons at Texas, Brown's teams have won or shared the Big 12 South Division championship four times and have played in three Big 12 Championship games. His past eight teams have finished ranked in the nation's Top 15 seven times, including Top Six finishes in four of the last five years. It is even more startling when you look at Brown's consistency of success over the last 14 years (eight at Texas/six at UNC). During that timespan, Brown has engineered trips to 14 bowl games, eight seasons with 10 (or more) wins, 12 years of at least nine victories, 12 Top 25 rankings and 137 victories.

Named the Paul "Bear" Bryant National Coach of the Year for 2005, Brown is the only active coach in NCAA Division I-A to record at least nine wins in each of the last 10 seasons. He has led teams to 14 straight bowl games and is one of only 15 coaches ever to lead at least three different schools to post season competition.

A native of Cookeville, Tennessee, and the grandson of a famous high school coach, Brown played his college football at Vanderbilt and Florida State. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Southern Mississippi in 1975, and he followed that with stops at Memphis State, Iowa State and LSU.

Brown took his first head coaching job at Appalachian State in 1983, leading the Mountaineers to their first winning season in four years. He left Appalachian State in 1984 to become offensive coordinator under Barry Switzer at Oklahoma, and then took the head coaching job at Tulane in 1985. Two years later, in 1987, he guided the Green Wave to the Independence Bowl, marking only the fifth bowl appearance for Tulane since 1940.

In 1988, Brown moved to North Carolina, where he took the Tar Heels from a 2-20 beginning to a contender for the National Championship 10 years later. His 1996 Carolina team finished ranked 10th in the country, and in 1997, they were fourth nationally.

Brown's arrival at Texas in 1998 brought instant success. Not only did he win on the field, he unified the Texas alumni and former lettermen as no one had done since the national championship days of Darrell Royal, and Royal himself became a big part of Brown's family at Texas.

Brown and his wife, Sally, are benefactors to the Rise School, a school for youngsters with special educational needs, and have been involved in support for Safe Place and other charitable organizations. Brown and Sally have four children.

Texas has had

at least two players drafted in the first round of the NFL Draft five times in the last six years.

The Davis File

Greg Davis

Offensive Coordinator
Quarterbacks

A 33-year coaching veteran, Greg Davis is in his ninth year as offensive coordinator/QBs coach. After directing one of the nation's premier offensive attacks at Texas the past eight years, Davis was recognized as the nation's top assistant coach with the Frank Broyles Award for a stellar 2005 campaign.

Under his guidance, the Longhorns have produced seven of the top 10 total offense seasons and five of the top six passing campaigns in UT history. Texas also has posted the top five scoring seasons in school history during his tenure. His offense has produced 28 of the 51 500-yard total offense games in school history during the past eight seasons, including three of the top five performances and a school-best 692 yards (vs. Rice, 1998). In 2005, UT set season records for total offense (6,657) and points (652). The 652 points were also the highest total in NCAA history.

Davis' UT offense has produced three of the last eight Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year – RB Ricky Williams, 1998; QB Major Applewhite, 1999; QB Vince Young, 2005. During his eight years at UT, he has tutored 24 first-team All-Big 12 performers and 27 others who have earned recognition among the All-Big 12 second, third and honorable mention teams.

As UT's quarterbacks coach, Davis has tutored a Davey O'Brien Award winner, two Davey O'Brien Award semifinalists, three Big 12 Offensive Players of the Year and two QBs that earned league Freshman of the Year honors.

He and his wife, Patsy, have two children, Greg Jr. (RBs coach at Tulane) and Stacey, and four grandchildren. Greg Jr. and his wife, Karen, have two daughters, Taylor and Kaylen. Stacey and her husband, Kory, have two children, daughter, Brook, and son, K.J.

The Chizik File

Gene Chizik enters his second season at Texas as the assistant head coach/co-defensive coordinator/linebackers coach. A 20-year coaching veteran, Chizik came to the Longhorns from Auburn, where he spent three seasons as defensive coordinator (2002-04). He was named the 2004 Broyles Award winner, honoring the nation's top assistant coach.

Chizik continued to show why he is considered one of the top assistants in the country after arriving in Austin. Texas finished the 2005 season ranked 10th nationally in total defense (302.9 ypg), eighth in scoring defense (16.4 ppg) and eighth in pass defense (172.0 ypg). His defense helped Texas to its first Big 12 Championship since 1996 and its first National Championship since 1970. He also ran his personal winning streak to 28 games after recording consecutive 13-0 seasons plus two wins at the end of 2003. Chizik's 2005 defense produced 10 All-Big 12 performers, including four first teamers and Texas' first Jim Thorpe Award winner in Michael Huff.

Chizik's defenses at Auburn ranked among the nation's top five in total defense and among the top 10 in scoring defense over his final two years. Prior to Auburn, Chizik spent four seasons as defensive coordinator at the University of Central Florida, where he turned around a unit that ranked 81st in total defense prior to his arrival to one that ranked 16th (307.4 ypg) in 2001. UCF also ranked 13th in scoring defense (18.5 ppg) that year.

Chizik and his wife, Jonna, have two daughters, identical twins Landry Grace and Kennedy Danielle, and one son, Cally.

A 27-year veteran coach who has spent 18 of his seasons as an assistant working with defensive backs, Duane Akina has made a big impact in his five years coaching the Longhorns secondary. He was promoted to Co-Defensive Coordinator in 2004.

In five seasons at Texas, Akina's secondary has helped the Horns rank among the nation's Top 10 in pass defense four times. He also helped produce Texas' first-ever Jim Thorpe Award winner in Michael Huff to go along with six first-team All-Big 12 picks.

Akina joined the UT program after spending the previous 14 seasons at Arizona, where he served as the associate head coach and was tabbed defensive coordinator in December 2000. During his tenure at Arizona, he was a versatile coach who worked with both sides of the ball. Akina spent his final five seasons as defensive backs coach and nine of his 14 seasons working with the Wildcats' secondary. He also was UA's offensive coordinator from 1992-95.

A native of Honolulu, Akina is a 1979 graduate of the University of Washington. He earned three letters as a quarterback, and upon completing his eligibility, served as a graduate assistant coach at UW. Akina worked with the Huskies' quarterbacks in 1979-80.

Hawaii's Prep Athlete of the Year at Honolulu's Punahou High School in 1974-75, he was a three-time all-league selection as a quarterback in football and a guard in basketball. Akina and his wife, Donna, have five children, Kainoa, Keoni, Dionicia, Alli and Kamalii.

One of the most respected high school coaches in Texas for 14 years, Bruce Chambers has continued that success at The University of Texas. Chambers is in his fourth season as UT's tight ends coach after spending the previous five years working with the Longhorns running backs. He also was promoted to assistant head coach and to director of UT's High School Coaches Clinic in 2004 before being named recruiting coordinator in 2005.

Chambers guided David Thomas to one of the best careers by a tight end in UT history. In 2005, Thomas set the single-season record for receptions by a tight end with 50, finished second on the single-season list in yards (613) and tied for third in TD receptions (five). In total, Thomas rewrote the record book under Chambers, finishing his career as Texas' all-time tight end leader in receptions (98), yards (1,367) and TDs (15).

Chambers joined the UT staff from Dallas' Carter High School, where he helped coach one of the state's most successful football programs for 14 seasons. He was the head coach and athletics director during his final two years and also taught speech and journalism classes at the school.

While at Carter, Chambers helped develop future NFL players Jessie Armstead (LB, New York Giants & Washington Redskins), Jirmetrius Butler (CB, St. Louis Rams), Greg Hill (RB, Kansas City Chiefs & Detroit Lions), Kendall Jacox (OL, New Orleans Saints) and Darryl Jones (WR, New York Giants).

Chambers' tie to high school coaching and his understanding of young men, parents and the job of the high school coach made him a prime candidate when Mack Brown was forming his initial staff at UT.

A four-year letterman as a wide receiver and a two-time letterwinner in track and field at North Texas, Chambers earned his degree in journalism in 1982. His wife's name is Cathy.

Oscar Giles, a former Longhorn, enters his second season as defensive ends coach at The University of Texas. This is Giles' second coaching stint with the Longhorns.

In his first season back with Texas, three of the defensive ends earned conference honors with Tim Crowder and Brian Robison being named honorable mention All-Big 12, while Brian Orakpo earned Defensive Freshman of the Year. Orakpo was also named National Defensive Freshman of the Year by The Sporting News.

A four-year letterwinner at Texas (1987-90), Giles played defensive end and linebacker for the Atlanta Falcons from 1991-93. He went on to play in the Canadian Football League from 1994-97 and helped the Toronto Argonauts win the Grey Cup Championship in 1996.

A three-year starter at UT, Giles earned Associated Press All-SWC honors as a senior, when he helped the Longhorns to the 1990 SWC Championship and an appearance in the 1991 Cotton Bowl. He led Texas in sacks in 1988 (6.5) and 1989 (7.0) and finished with 22 in his career (T-No. 10 on the UT all-time list). A semifinalist for the Outland Trophy and two-time GTE Academic All-SWC selection, his nine career fumble recoveries are tied for second on the UT all-time chart.

A native of Palacios, Texas, Giles earned a bachelor's of science degree in speech communications from Texas in 1991.

A veteran of 16 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 10 tutoring wide receivers, Bobby Kennedy is in his third year as an assistant coach at Texas. He works with the Longhorn wide receivers and was named assistant recruiting coordinator in 2005.

In 2005, Kennedy transformed a group of young receivers into one of the most effective groups in UT history. As a group, the Texas receivers tallied 142 receptions for 2,195 yards and 16 TDs, helping Texas tie the single-season UT record for TD passes and finish third in single-season passing yards. Also, two members of the receiving corps earned the first all-conference honors of their career.

Prior to joining the Texas staff, Kennedy spent two years coaching wide receivers at Washington. Under his guidance, Huskies receiver Reggie Williams earned All-America honors twice before being selected by the Jacksonville Jaguars in the first round (ninth pick) of the 2004 NFL Draft.

Before Washington, Kennedy spent time at Arizona, Wake Forest, Wyoming, Penn State and Illinois. A 1989 graduate of Northern Colorado, Kennedy began his coaching career on the high school level in his hometown of Boulder. The Boulder High School graduate began his collegiate coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Illinois (1990-91).

Ken Rucker

Running Backs

A veteran of 27 seasons as a collegiate assistant coach, including 19 tutoring running backs, eight in the state of Texas and 11 in the Southwest, Ken Rucker enters his second season as running backs coach at The University of Texas. Rucker has been a part of staffs that have made 11 bowl game appearances, including last year's National Championship team.

In his first season as running backs coach at Texas, Rucker guided a unit that, despite a varitey of injuries, produced four players who tallied at least 400 yards rushing. Freshman Jamaal Charles led the group with 878 yards and 11 TDs on his way to Big 12 Offensive Freshman of the Year and honorable mention Freshman All-America honors.

Rucker has coached all over the United States, including stops at Georgia, Texas A&M, North Carolina, Baylor, Arkansas, the Air Force Academy, Richmond and Appalachian State, all after getting his start as a defensive coordinator on the high school level.

A native of Morristown, Tenn., Rucker earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Carson-Newman College in 1976. A standout defensive player for the Eagles, he was named the team's Most Valuable Player in 1976, all-conference as a linebacker in 1975 and Most Valuable Defensive Lineman in 1974.

Rucker previously served as an ex-officio member of the American Football Coaches Association's (AFCA) Board of Trustees and is chairman of the Assistant Coaches Committee of the AFCA. The board formulates policy and provides direction for the AFCA, which includes more than 8,000 members from all levels of the profession.

Mike Tolleson

Defensive Tackles
Special Teams Coordinator

A former defensive coordinator and veteran of 32 years in coaching, Mike Tolleson is in his ninth year as defensive tackles coach at Texas. He also serves as UT's special teams coordinator. Tolleson came to Texas after spending numerous years perfecting his craft at the high school, collegiate and professional levels.

At Texas, Tolleson's development of the Horns' interior line has been crucial in transforming a defense that allowed 241.5 rushing yards per game in 1997 to 89.5 (sixth NCAA/lowest at UT since 1964) in 2001. UT's tackles have helped the defense allow just twenty 100-yard rushers in the last 87 games.

Under Tolleson, Texas' reputation of producing outstanding defensive linemen has continued to grow. It was never more evident than in the 2006 Super Bowl, where two former Tolleson protégés played major roles for both teams in Pittsburgh's Casey Hampton and Seattle's Marcus Tubbs. Detroit Lions' DT Shaun Rogers joined Hampton on the 2006 Pro Bowl roster.

A native of Anniston, Ala., Tolleson was a two-year letterman at Tampa University before transferring to Delta State, where he lettered in football and track. A 1970 graduate of Delta State, Tolleson earned a master's degree from Livingston University in 1973.

Tolleson and his wife, Wilda Sue, have three daughters, Michelle, Shannon and Heather.

"I grew up in Southern California and it was a little unorthodox to go all the way to Texas for school. People would always ask me, 'Why did you go there?' there were a handful of college teams that when we'd get a rookie from one of those schools, the veterans kind of wanted to get a look at the guy. Everything that Mack Brown and his staff say and do illustrates that the Texas football program is more than just a team, it is a family. From the coaches and staff to the players and their families, everything the Longhorns football program endures is done with, as Coach Brown says, "One Heartbeat." As a result, over a Longhorn player's four- or five-year career, he will build relationships with teammates, coaches and staff members that will last a lifetime.

Longhorn family members play an active role in the program.

"The best thing you can say about Coach Brown's players is that they are good kids who have a good work ethic. The University of Texas is an environment where you would want your son to be."

— Alonzo Highsmith, NFL veteran and Green Bay Packers scout

"I didn't really understand the family atmosphere when I was being recruited. Once you get here, you find out what it truly is. We go through a lot together and you just naturally start bonding. You can depend on people, like a family. The coaches are all like father figures. Then the icing on the cake is having Coach Brown and Mrs. Sally really welcome you in, letting you know everyone here is just as important as everyone else."

— Rod Wright, consensus All-America defensive tackle and current Miami Dolphin

"I think the word 'family' is a great way to describe the football program at Texas. Coach Brown is like a father figure to all of us and we can go to him with anything. The chemistry that grew between the players last year was unbelievable. Everybody gelled together and no matter who you were, you were treated as an equal. I think that kind of camaraderie and chemistry took us a long way."

— Ahmard Hall, former fullback

"Regardless of the situation here at Texas, we always stick together. The coaching staff, the players and everyone involved with the team just create a great atmosphere to be in. We all bond together so tightly during the spring and summer workouts that when the season comes around, we know we are going to be there for each other."*

— Bo Scaife, former Longhorn tight end and current Tennessee Titan

"People choose Texas

because they've heard about the family atmosphere there. A lot of guys I talk to in this locker room ask me about it because people have told them how much of a family we were at Texas. Super Staff

From its directors of operations to its strength and conditioning and coaching staff, the Longhorns football staff features a diverse combination of youth and experience. Each and every staffer has been involved in their area long enough to know the ins and outs of the profession and is as knowledgeable as anyone in their field of expertise. The one thing that links them all together is they have a passion for student-athletes and are driven to produce the best football program in America.

Offensive coordinator Greg Davis was named winner of the 2005 Broyles Award, honoring the nation's top assistant coach. Texas now has the award's last two winners on staff, after Gene Chizik won in 2004 while working as the defensive coordinator at Auburn.

"Not only is the UT coaching staff the best at teaching you the game, but they are also a lot of fun to be around. They love to joke around and spend time with the guys. That makes working harder in practice a lot easier."

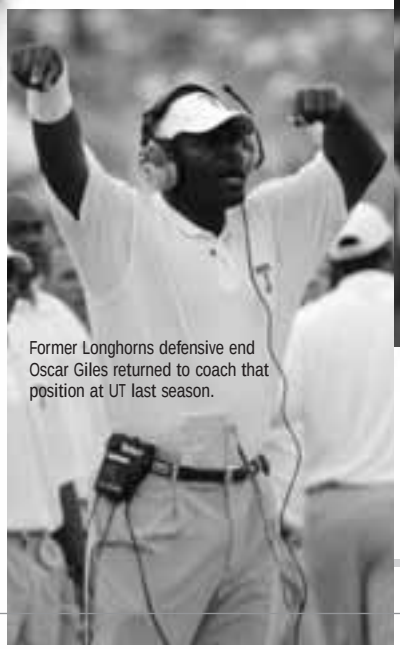
— Chris Simms, UT record-setting quarterback and current Tampa Bay Buccaneer

Gene Chizik is in his second season as co-defensive coordinator at Texas.

Mack Brown has a reputation for maintaining one of the finest staffs in the nation.

Wide receivers coach Bobby Kennedy (right) is in his 17th year as a college assistant.



Former Longhorns defensive end Oscar Giles returned to coach that position at UT last season.

"Our coaching staff is dedicated to helping you become a better player."

— Cedric Benson, UT All-American and 2005 Chicago Bears first-round pick

"The coaches are great, starting with Coach Brown. He's honest, tells you like it is and is a man of his word. You have to respect that. Coach Rucker and all of the coaches are the same way. They're all great guys and they really care about every guy on the team."

— Jamaal Charles, UT sophomore running back

"I love the staff at Texas,

We have the greatest coaches. Coach Akina has sent so many DBs into the NFL, just like all of the other position coaches. As a player, you know you can come in here and learn so much more than you have in the past from such a great staff."

— Michael Griffin, senior safety

"What makes the UT coaches so great is there is a family atmosphere there. They are like fathers to all the guys — it's like you have 12 'Dads' on the team."

— Cory Redding, UT's 2002 Lombardi Trophy finalist and current Detroit Lions defensive lineman

Mike Tolleson not only helped train four of the top defensive tackles in UT history in Casey Hampton, Shaun Rogers, Marcus Tubbs and Rod Wright, but he also has spearheaded a successful Longhorns special teams unit.

Defensive ends coach Oscar Giles

Assistant Athletics Director for Strength and Conditioning Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden is recognized as one of the premier coaches in his field.

"One thing you can say about the Texas coaching staff is that they know a lot about football. The great thing about the coaching staff that Coach Brown has is that they are really particular about making sure that you do the little things right and with the right technique and form. We did all the little things right and it went a long way in our winning a lot of football games. We were fundamentally sound. I love watching Coach Brown's defense and special teams. Special teams are something that is overlooked in college and he puts a lot of emphasis on it. It's really fun to watch them blocking kicks and returning kicks for touchdowns."*

— Ricky Williams, 1998 Heisman Trophy winner

"Having Coach Chizik has been such a blessing. He brings a great style of coaching to the University of Texas. His philosophy is, 'Keep it Simple.' He allows his players to play, and it allows us to be as explosive as possible. He is one of the best coaches I have ever played for. He is understanding, but at the same time, you know he expects a lot out of you."

Longhorns academic counselors visit regularly with every student-athlete to be certain they are making progress toward their degrees and to assist with any problems that may arise. The counselors provide assistance on such matters as registration, degree planning and compliance with University and NCAA policies and procedures.

The Texas counselors also have an excellent relationship with University administration, faculty and deans. The counselors keep faculty aware of student-athletes' road trips, while the professors and deans prepare regular progress reports on each student-athlete throughout the year. Highly-qualified tutors in every academic field are available to all student-athletes.

Life Skills

To prepare student-athletes

for the challenges of life beyond the playing field, The University of Texas has been a leader in assisting the NCAA in the development of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program.

The eighth-year national program is designed to provide student-athletes with the education and experiences to assist them in bridging the gap from college life to professional life. It also emphasizes making meaningful contributions to the community.

A program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs, the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program is in place to prepare student-athletes for "real life."

UT Men's Athletics Director DeLoss Dodds was a member of the initial committee that developed the program and continues to be one of its most ardent supporters.

"I've followed Mack Brown for a number of years, and everywhere he's gone, he's done an excellent job with his athletes and rounding them into the very best people they can be. The university and Mack Brown and his staff need to be commended for not just focusing on their athletic pursuits, but making sure these young men are representative of the best of the The University of Texas."

"Coach Brown's a great guy

He tries to help whoever needs help and encourages us as if we were his own kids. He just tries to parent us, as well as coach us. Coach Brown tries to be a friend and father figure, someone you can look up to. You know if there's anything you need to talk about, you can come and talk to Coach Brown."

Exciting Offense

In eight seasons under Greg Davis, the Texas offense has produced seven of the top 10 total offense seasons, five of the top six passing campaigns and the top five scoring years on UT record, including an NCAA-record 652 points in 2005.

For more than a decade,

Greg Davis has been recognized as one of the most innovative offensive coordinators in college football. Entering his ninth year at Texas, Davis, who won the Broyles Award (nation's top assistant coach) in 2005, has guided a Longhorns offense that produced the school's only 3,000-yard passers (3), 2,000-yard rusher and 1,000-yard receivers (4). His explosive UT offenses have been among only a handful of schools to rank among the nation's top 25 in all four major offensive categories, posted 28 of the top 51 total offense games in school history and set 27 Longhorns records. Texas was among a rare number of schools that featured semifinalists for the nation's quarterback, running back and receiver of the year awards in 1999.

Four of the Longhorns'

five offensive coaches have served as head coaches or coordinators during their careers. The group has amassed 134 years of coaching experience and has coached in 55 bowl games.

Did you know?

Texas' offense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in six of the last eight years. That group includes players from five different positions (QB, RB, WR, LT, RT).

Offensive Coordinator/
Quarterbacks

"The thing that is great about Coach Davis' offense is that it is so versatile, and as a quarterback, it allows you to do a lot of different things. Coach Davis allows you to make the reads and adjustments and works with you in managing the game. If you have any aspirations of playing in the NFL or just improving every day as a player, his offense prepares you for that."

— Chris Simms, UT record-setting quarterback and current Tampa Bay Buccaneer

"Coach Davis, spent a lot of time with me helping me understand the game. He helped make the game more fun than it already was. It became more fun knowing what you're doing out there. I love Coach Davis for that."

— Vince Young, Maxwell, O'Brien and Manning Awards winner

"The pro-oriented offensive attack we have installed at Texas is a fast-paced and fun system which is exciting for any player who has ambitions of playing on Sundays. Our wide-open style has had the versatility to produce a number of all-conference tailbacks, quarterbacks, receivers and linemen in three of the nation's top conferences (Big 12, SEC and ACC) over the last several years. I would expect we would continue that success, not only in the Big 12 but also nationally."

— Greg Davis, Offensive Coordinator

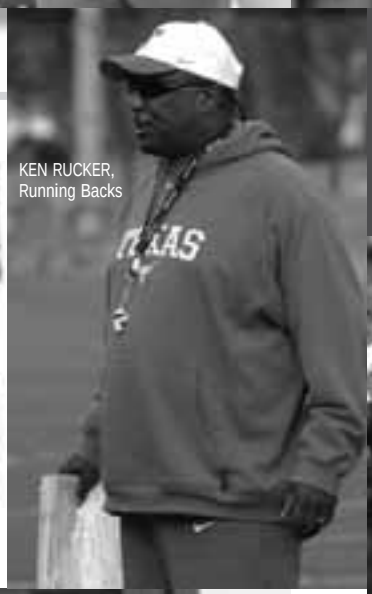
Texas had 32 TD drives of four plays or fewer in 2005. Of the 32 drives, nine were for at least 70 yards. On the 32 drives, UT averaged 2.5 plays for 44.4 yards. The Longhorns explosive offense only held the ball for an average of 48.5 seconds on the drives.

BRUCE CHAMBERS,
Tight Ends

BOBBY KENNEDY,
Wide Receivers

"These are two historic offenses. You don't see numbers like this other than on video games."

— Pete Carroll, USC head coach on Texas and USC



KEN RUCKER,
Running Backs

In 1998, Texas became just the second school in NCAA history to feature a 2,000-yard rusher and passer as well as a 1,000-yard receiver.

MAC McWHORTER,
Offensive Line

Texas' offense has produced two of the top six rushers in NCAA history (Ricky Williams, 2nd, 6,279 yards; Cedric Benson, 6th, 5,540 yards).*

Attacking Defense

Texas' aggressive

defensive style allowed opponents to reach 300 yards of total offense only five times in 2005 and held the remaining eight opponents to 267 yards or fewer.

Since Mack Brown

took over in 1998, the Texas defense has produced a Thorpe Award winner (nation's top defensive back), a Butkus Award winner (nation's top linebacker), a Nagurski Trophy winner (nation's top defensive player), three Lombardi Award finalists (nation's top lineman) and finalists for the Bednarik Award (nation's top defensive player), Hendricks Award (nation's top defensive end), Lott Trophy (nation's defensive impact player) and Thorpe Award.

MIKE TOLLESON,
Defensive Tackles/Special Teams Coordinator

OSCAR GILES,
Defensive Ends

DUANE AKINA,
Co-Defensive Coordinator/
Defensive Backs

"All of our coaches are really cool, laid-back guys off the field. You can go and talk to them about anything. But, when we get out there, they get really fired up. They all get us excited during practice and make it a lot of fun."

— Rod Wright, former UT All-America defensive tackle and current Miami Dolphin

Texas' defense has produced an NFL first-round draft pick in five of the last six years.

DID YOU KNOW?

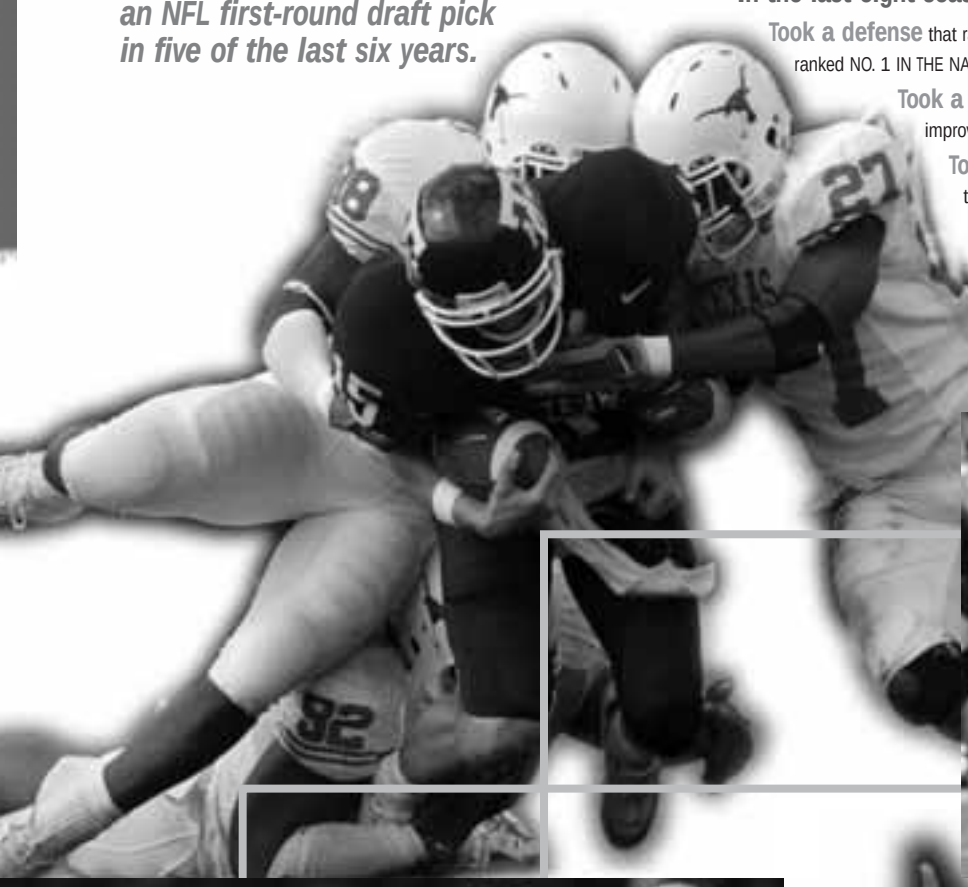
In the last eight seasons, Mack Brown and his staff ...

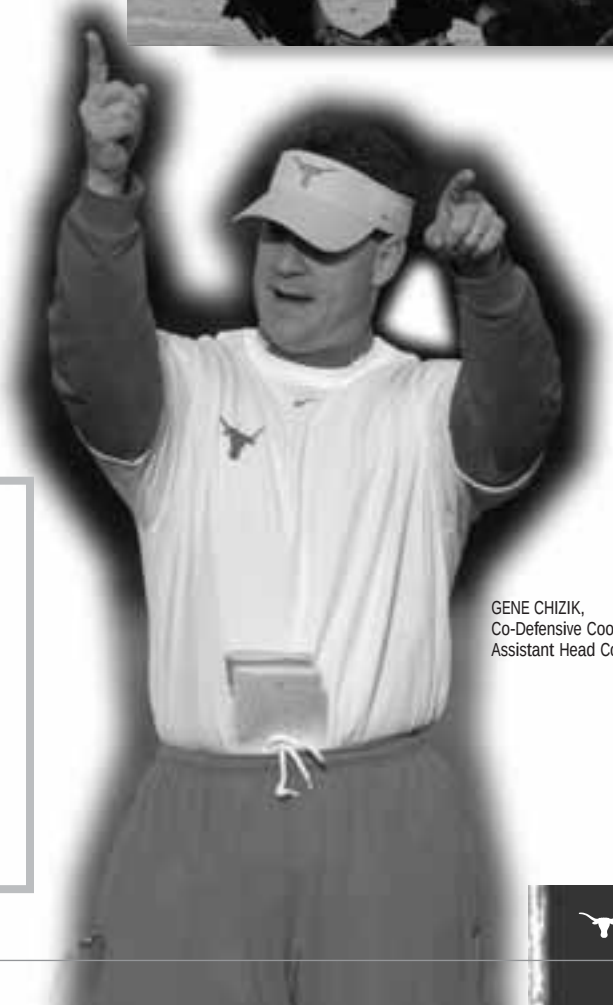
Took a defense that ranked 85th in the nation in total defense in 1997 and turned it into one that ranked NO. 1 IN THE NATION in 2001, as well as seventh in 2000, sixth in 1999 and 10th in 2005.

Took a defense that ranked 104th in the nation in rushing defense in 1997 and improved to 17th nationally in 1999, 12th in 2000 and sixth in 2001.

Took a defense that ranked 75th in the nation in passing defense in 1997 to become the nation's 12th-best in 1999, the NCAA leader in 2000, fourth-best in 2001, ninth in 2003 and eighth in 2005.

Converted a defense that ranked 96th in the nation in scoring defense in 1997 to the 11th-ranked group in 2000, third in the nation in 2001, eighth in 2004 and eighth in 2005.





GENE CHIZIK,
Co-Defensive Coordinator/
Assistant Head Coach/LBs

All totalled, Texas' defense has forced 229 turnovers in the past eight seasons, which is an average of 2.3 per game in 102 contests.

Explosive Power

At The University of Texas, the emphasis of our strength and conditioning program is speed and explosive power. We help each athlete train the total body through explosive movements to reach an optimal athletic performance."

— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden, Assistant AD for Strength & Conditioning

Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden's unique and challenging training regimen has made dramatic improvements in the strength, conditioning and performance of every Longhorn player.

Jeff Madden was named the 2004 National Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year.

In June of 2003,

Jeff Madden was elected into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame.

"The Texas team is physically one of the most impressive groups that you'll ever find."*

— Mike Tirico, ESPN

The Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center is a whopping 20,000 square feet. The state-of-the-art facility includes:

- A three-lane, 70-yard astroturf running track
- A 35-by-45-foot astroturf plyometric training center

- Video-based training systems and instructional facilities
- Brand-new customized weight training equipment
- A top-of-the-line sound system

Jeff Madden

was one of just 10 coaches nationally to receive the title of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach at the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Assocation (CSCC) convention in 2001. The honor represents what the association says "is the highest honor that can be achieved as a strength and conditioning coach and represents professionalism, knowledge, experience and expertise."

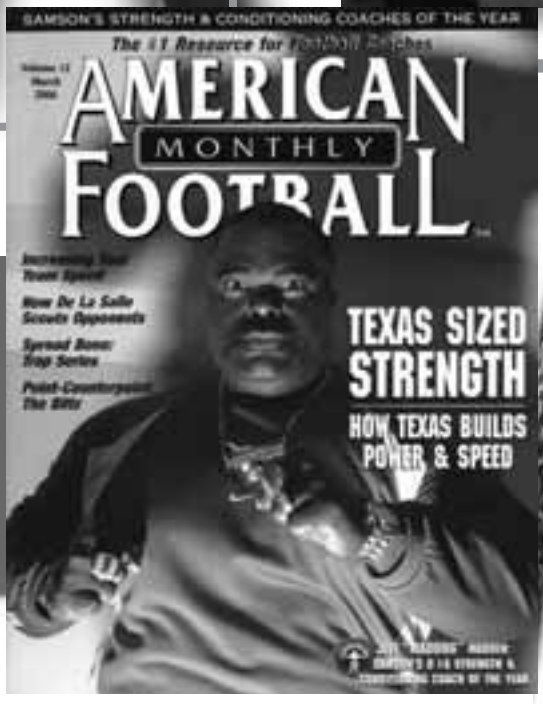
Explosive Power

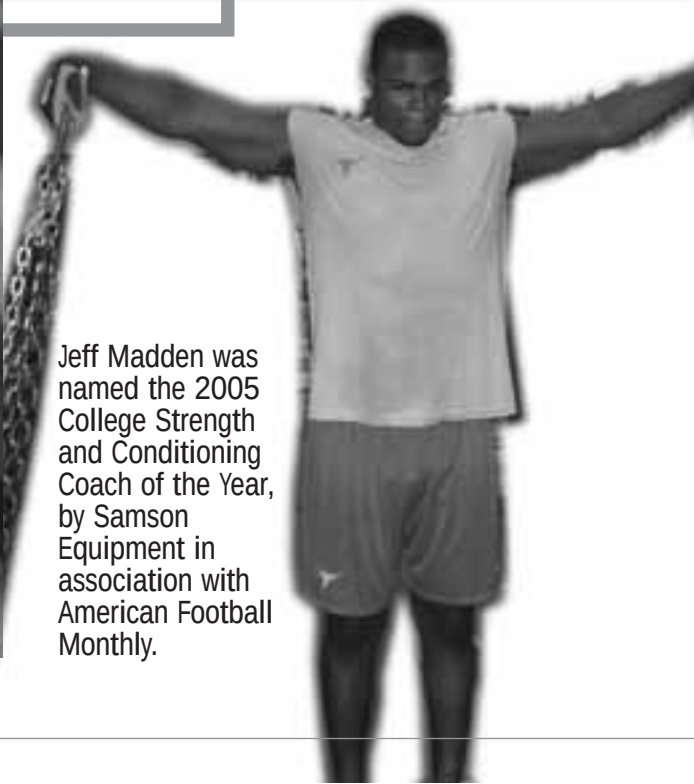
"Everyone noticed last year that in four quarters we never got tired, even if we were losing. That was because of coach Madden. If you are late or miss a workout, he won't let it slide. He will call and ask where you are. That commitment keeps us going."

— Michael Griffin, senior safety

"We want our linemen to run like our linebackers. We want our linebackers to run like our DBs and our wide receivers. And we want our running backs, wide receivers, and DBs to run like the fastest men in the world."

— Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden





Jeff Madden was named the 2005 College Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year, by Samson Equipment in association with American Football Monthly.

Jeff "Mad Dog" Madden's challenging strength and conditioning program has helped prepare more than 200 players for the NFL.

"Making it through coach Madden's training program has really pushed me to become the best player I can be. I've learned to overcome a lot of things, how to be mentally focused and push for that extra effort when I am tired."

— Jonathan Scott, former UT All-America tackle

The Longhorns Strength and Conditioning Staff: (L-R) Donny Maib, Bruce Johnson, Jeff Madden, Derrick Scott, Lance Sewell and Ken Sheppard.

"Jeff has as much knowledge as any coach out there and works extremely hard to stay ahead of his field. Most importantly, he does a tremendous job relating strength, conditioning and flexibility to the football field. But, Jeff is not only the best strength and conditioning person in our business, he also is a terrific counselor of young men."

— Mack Brown

"One of the staff members has had an influence on my life. I might ask him to come up here. Mad Dog. My body is what it is today because of Mad Dog. I appreciate you. He told me once — he said, 'If you make it to Washington, I promise you, Mr. President-to-be, I'm coming up there with a team of champions.' And he did."

— President George W. Bush, during the White House ceremony

Fantastic Facilites

Texas Longhorns Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Complex

is a monument to Longhorns football pride. Honoring the greats in Texas football history and featuring every possible amenity in a spacious environment, the facility is considered by many to be the best in the country.

Texas' spacious and newly renovated players' lounge features:

four TV projectors, six flat screen TVs, four Xbox 360s, three PS2s, an AMX audio/visual system control, custom theater seats, sectional seats and recliners, new High Impact photos, new NFL Display, new wood and tile floors and a custom bar for serving meals.

Trophy Room

The football complex features a trophy room to display the many honors in UT history, a display recognizing Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium's past, present and future, and a computer kiosk with on-demand access to everything you could imagine relating to Texas football history. Legendary Longhorns Darrell Royal and Earl Campbell have an office displaying the National Championship trophies in the facility. There also is a hallway featuring plaques honoring every UT All-American and Academic All-American.

Texas' practice facility, named for UT benefactor Frank Denius (opposite, with Mack Brown), features two full-size prescription athletic turf fields as well as an artificial turf indoor facility.

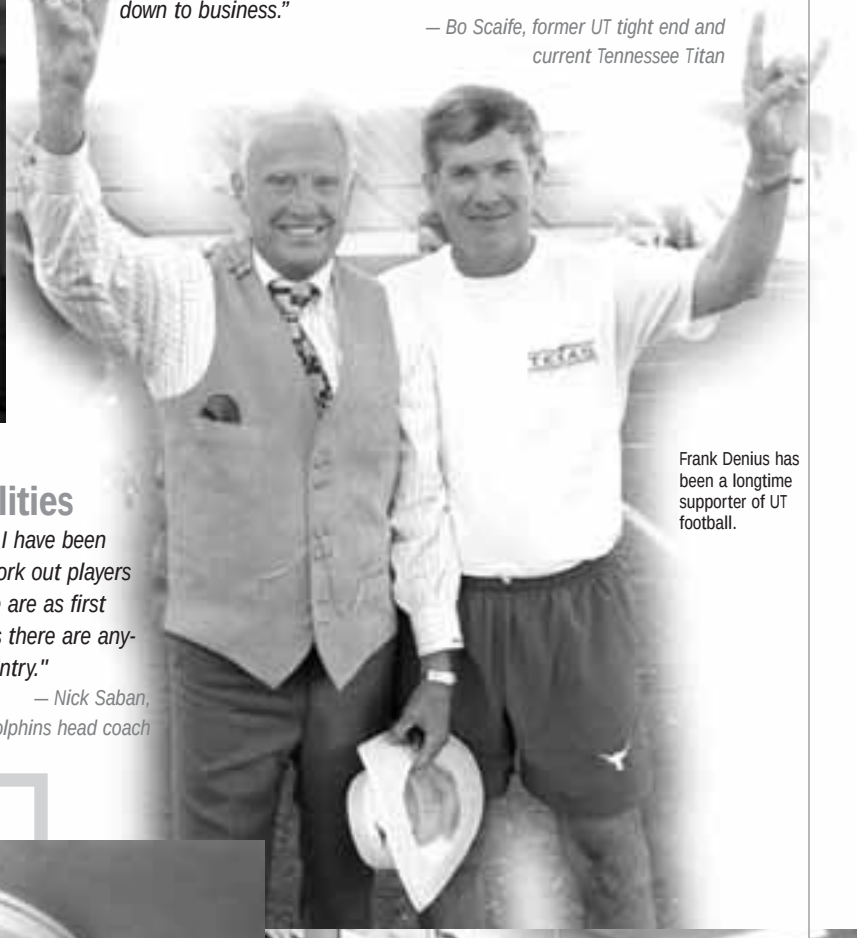
"The Bubble" at Denius Fields keeps excessive heat, freezing temperatures, rain, lightning or other hazardous weather conditions from halting or hindering Longhorns football preparation. Completed in 2002, this $4 million indoor practice multi-purpose facility is a 69,750-square-foot training center with a 55-foot high ceiling. The building is air-conditioned and houses a full-sized astro-turf practice field.

"The locker room is like a home away from home. When we are in there, it's just fun and family. We're a bunch of big brothers who like to goof around and hang out together until it is time to get down to business."

— Bo Scaife, former UT tight end and current Tennessee Titan



Frank Denius has been a longtime supporter of UT football.

"These facilities are outstanding. I have been here before to work out players and I think these are as first class facilities as there are anywhere in the country."

— Nick Saban, Miami Dolphins head coach

Texas' enormous locker room facility features 125 personalized eight-foot tall open lockers, a spacious team meeting area, two 35-inch TVs and a three-dimensional, lighted 20-foot Longhorn on the ceiling.

The locker room includes sealed historical lockers honoring Heisman Trophy winners Earl Campbell and Ricky Williams, Outland Trophy winners Scott Appleton, Tommy Nobis and Brad Shearer, Lombardi Trophy winners Kenneth Sims and Tony Degrate and Hall of Fame head coach Darrell Royal.

"Not only are they nice on the inside, but they also serve their functional purpose. We travel all over the country, and I would say these are some of the best anywhere."

One of the largest facilities of its kind in the Southwest, The University of Texas' Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium is a standing legacy to the rich tradition of Longhorns football. Opened in 1924, Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium has undergone several facelifts to maintain itself as one of the finest football facilities in America. Although its capacity has been listed as 80,082, Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium has been the site of standing room-only contests hundreds of times over the last 78 seasons, and on 44 occasions, has accomodated more than 81,000 fans. The support peaked in 1999 as a record crowd of 84,082 turned out for Texas' victory over No. 3 Nebraska. Success has been a big part of the tradition. The Horns have won nearly 78 percent of their games (321-88-10) within the confines of Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. For the 2006 season, capacity will be expanded to 84,997 with additional seats added to the south end zone.

"Anytime I run into players from other teams around the country, they always ask about our facilities. Word gets out fast that everything at Texas is first class."

— Roy Williams, Longhorn All-America receiver and 2004 NFL first-round draft pick

The 1999-2005 seasons have been the best on record for Texas football attendance. All 40 home games attracted more than 80,000 fans. Nine of those games rank among the top 10 on UT's all-time home attendance list.

"The facilities at Texas are pretty special. It's very impressive when you go to each facility and see how committed Texas is to making everything the best. From the moment you step in the building, you can see Mack Brown is committed to providing his players with the best facilities in the nation."

— Tom Donahoe, Buffalo Bills president/general manager

The trophy room was renovated in 2006 following Texas' fourth National Championship.

(Digital Representation)

Daktronics designed and built the largest high-definition video display in collegiate sports for Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. The multi-million dollar display and control system will be installed and operational for the 2006 season opener against North Texas on Sept. 2.

"The facilities at Texas are probably the best in America. It's quite amazing to see the facilities that are available to the players. I would say it is the preeminent facility in all of college football."

— Marty Schottenheimer, San Diego Chargers head coach

Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium

has expansion plans in place for the north end zone, which will feature an academic center, a war memorial plaza and 9,000 additional seats.

"The locker rooms are first class. The thing I like the most is the section in the back with all of the jerseys of the greats who have had their numbers retired. It gives everyone something to look up to and shoot for, because there are not that many jerseys back there. Then you go to the weight room. It's huge with a track in the back, and you have everything you need right in front of you."

The 20,000-square foot Dr. Nasser Al-Rashid Strength and Training Center (above) features customized training equipment, computer and video-based training systems, a 70-yard astro-turf track and a top-of-the-line sound system. It's an ideal location for UT's Pro Timing Day, which can all be handled in one location.

Texas' 4,500-square foot training room combines the best rehabilitation and training facilities with on-site physician exam rooms.

Big-Time Competition

"The Big 12 Conference is all about hard-nosed football. It's the big boys going toe-to-toe in a heavyweight fight with everything on the line. If you are a competitive player who wants to be the best, the Big 12 is for you."
— Marcus Tubbs, Longhorn All-Big 12 defensive tackle and 2004 NFL first-round draft pick have won or shared 18 national football championships in various wire service and coaches' polls since 1939. The conference led the nation in championships in the 1990's with a total of four and has claimed six of the last 15 national titles.

Big 12 teams

"I remember Coach Davis saying, 'This is why we come to Texas. We come to Texas to play the Ohio States, the Oklahomas, the USCs and to play in the National Championship.' That's why you come to Texas, you come to play for the best and you come to play against the best."
— Billy Pittman, junior wide receiver

Texas' recent non-conference schedule has matched the Longhorns against major opponents such as UCLA, Stanford, North Carolina, Arkansas and Ohio State.

The Big 12, which sent eight teams to bowl games in 2001, '02, '03 and '05 has an agreement to send a league representative to eight bowl games in 2006. In addition to an automatic berth in the Bowl Championship Series (which began prior to the 1998 season), the Big 12 also has seven other agreements with the AT&T Cotton Bowl, Pacific Life Holiday Bowl, MasterCard Alamo Bowl, Independence Bowl, EV1.net Houston Bowl, Mazda Tangerine Bowl and PlainsCapital Fort Worth Bowl, in addition to partial agreements with the Toyota Gator Bowl and Vitalis Sun Bowl.

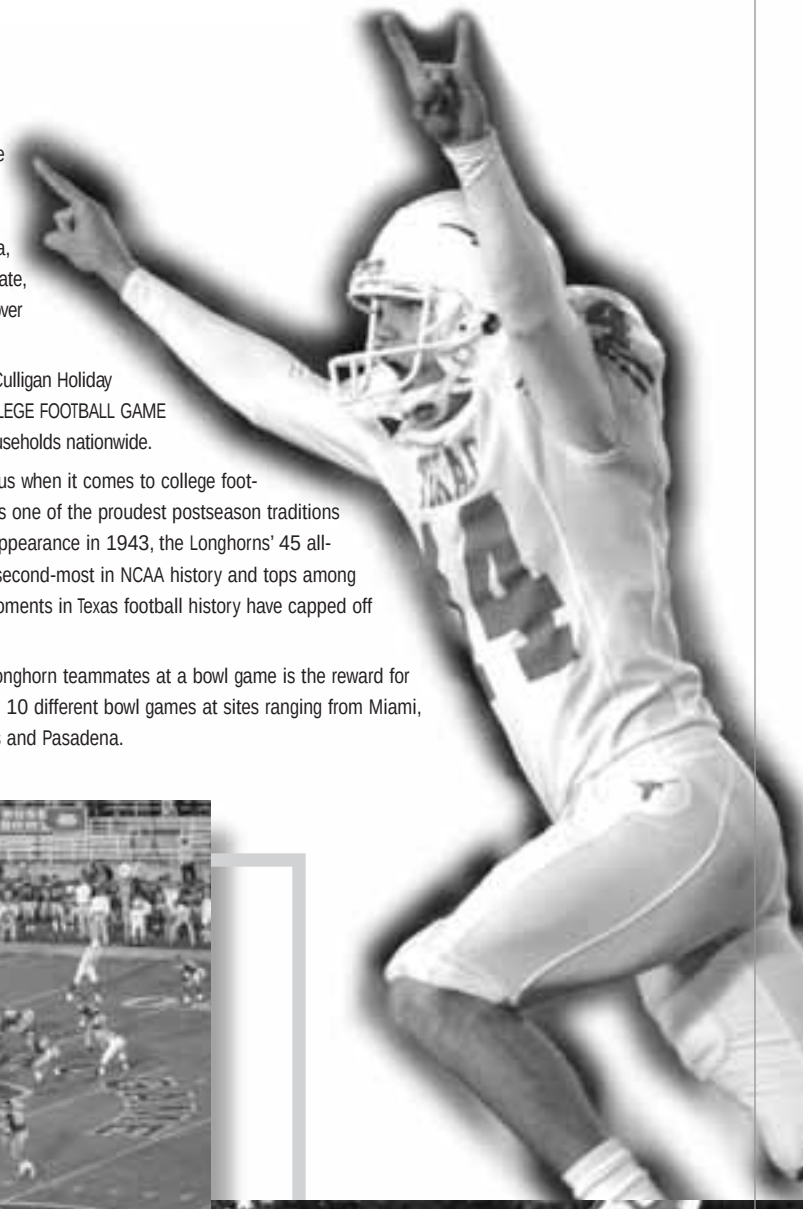
DID YOU KNOW?

Texas is one of only nine schools that have won each of the four "original" New Year's Day bowl games (Cotton, Orange, Rose, Sugar). The Horns joined Alabama, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Miami, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Oklahoma and Penn State with their win over Michigan in the 2005 Rose Bowl.

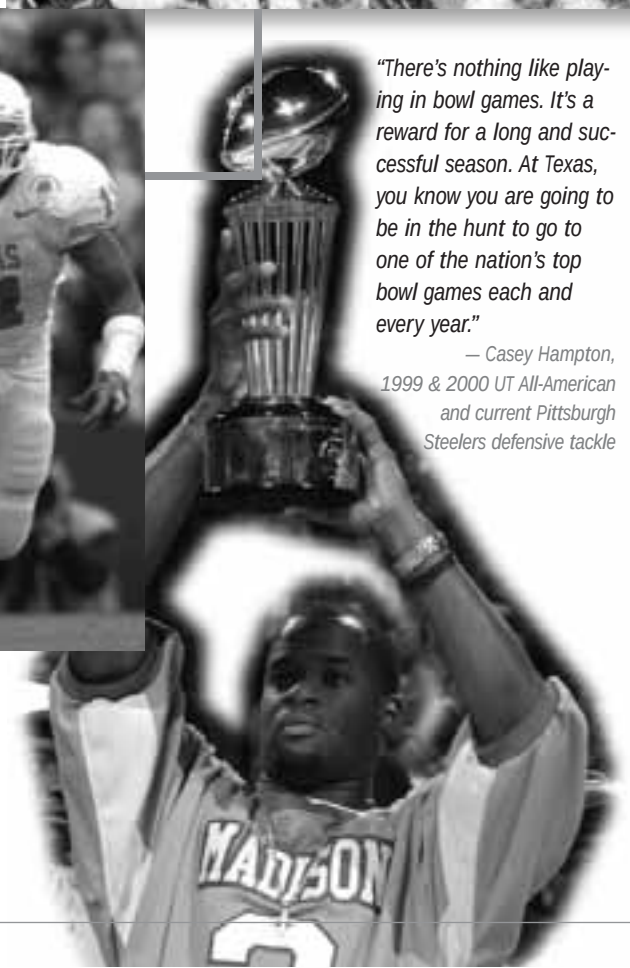
Texas' shootout with Oregon in the 2000 Culligan Holiday Bowl was the THIRD-MOST WATCHED COLLEGE FOOTBALL GAME IN ESPN HISTORY, drawing 4,377,089 households nationwide.

Bowl Games and success are synonymous when it comes to college football programs. The University of Texas has one of the proudest postseason traditions in the nation. Dating back to their first appearance in 1943, the Longhorns' 45 all-time bowl appearances are tied for the second-most in NCAA history and tops among Big 12 schools. Some of the greatest moments in Texas football history have capped off terrific seasons in bowl game victories.

A week of fun and festivities with your Longhorn teammates at a bowl game is the reward for a successful season. Texas has played in 10 different bowl games at sites ranging from Miami, San Diego, Dallas, Phoenix, New Orleans and Pasadena.



Bowl Games



"There's nothing like playing in bowl games. It's a reward for a long and successful season. At Texas, you know you are going to be in the hunt to go to one of the nation's top bowl games each and every year."

— Casey Hampton, 1999 & 2000 UT All-American and current Pittsburgh Steelers defensive tackle

"You spend a week with your teammates and it seems like you become a tight-knit group. There are all these events set up for us and we get to head out to them together. Just being with your teammates is a great experience. Last year, I think everyone came back from the Rose Bowl a lot closer because of the things we got to do together."

— Neale Tweedie, senior tight end

"It's exciting to be with a program that has the opportunity to go to a great bowl game every year. With all the hard work you put in before and during the season, you know that if you give your all, you are going to have a lot of fun at one of the top bowl games in the end."

— Derrick Dockery, UT All-American and current Washington Redskins guard

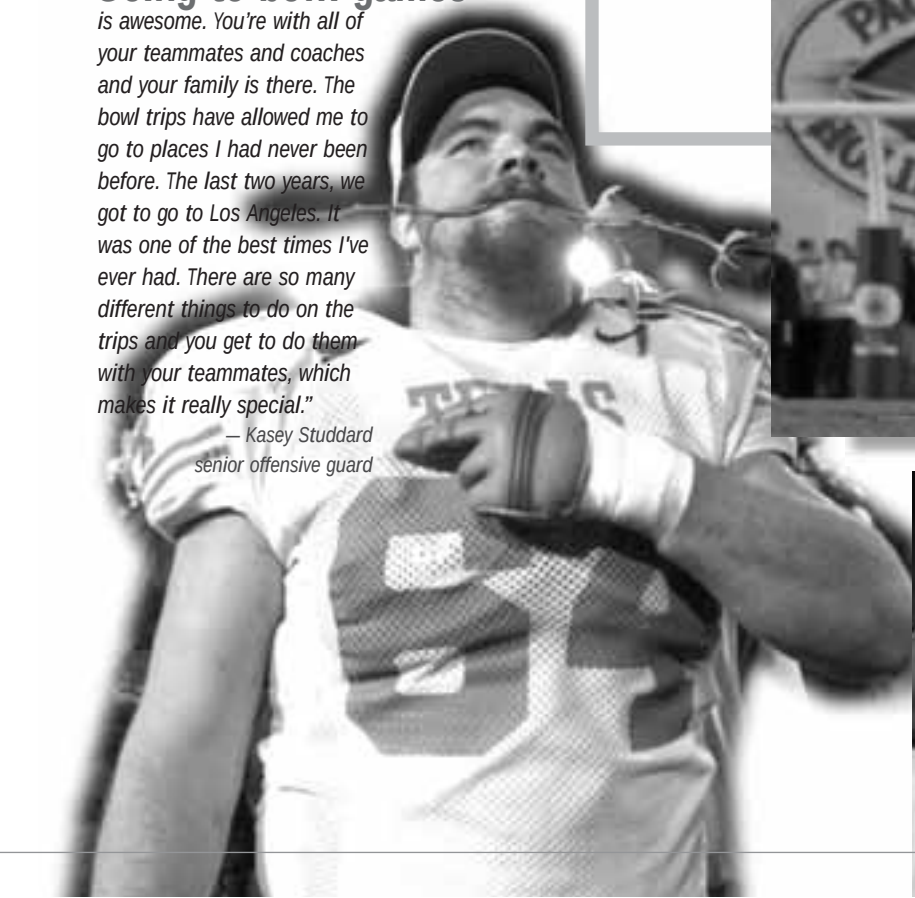
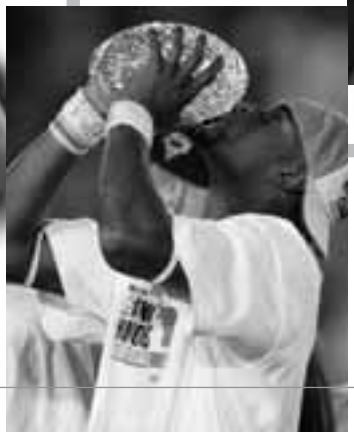
"Going to bowl games is awesome. You're with all of your teammates and coaches and your family is there. The bowl trips have allowed me to go to places I had never been before. The last two years, we got to go to Los Angeles. It was one of the best times I've ever had. There are so many different things to do on the trips and you get to do them with your teammates, which makes it really special."

— Kasey Studdard senior offensive guard





AT&T Red River Rivalry

BIG-TIME RIVALRIES

There is no rivalry in the nation quite like it. Dallas' Cotton Bowl is located an equal distance from both Austin and Norman, Okla. Fans, wearing their school colors proudly, arrive as early as Friday afternoon to take in the Texas State Fair, a fixture of Texas-OU weekend since 1929. Later, the faithful hit the streets of Dallas for an evening of revelry. On game day, the stadium looks as if the Texas-Oklahoma border runs right across the 50-yard line. In one direction is a sea of burnt orange and white, and the other, crimson and cream.

"Just the whole atmosphere and the whole city of Dallas make it a great game for me. To have the game at a neutral site where you have a split crowd and everything is divided is exciting. With the excitement as we're coming in, it doesn't really get much better than that."

— Frank Okam, junior defensive tackle

ESPN's GameDay show has been on hand for two Red River Rivalry.

Through 100 meetings, Texas leads the series with Oklahoma 56-39-5.

"To me, the most interesting and exciting thing about college football in the last few years is what has developed between Texas and Oklahoma. Having the rivalry at that sort of combustible level is just tremendous for the sport. There is something mythic and epic about the rivalry that spans the decades that makes it more than a Tennessee-Florida, for example. There's something timeless about it ... it is one of the most exciting things going on in the sport."

— Chris Fowler, ESPN, on the Red River Rivalry

Tens of thousands of Longhorns faithful gather to pump up the team at the annual Torchlight Parade pep rally that precedes the Red River Rivalry.

You want TRADITION?

UT and OU have met 100 times since the series began in 1900. How about INTEREST? The game, televised since 1952, has been sold out 60 straight times. QUALITY FOOTBALL? In 28 of the last 37 meetings, one or both teams have come into the game undefeated. In short, the second Saturday in October is more than just another game day.

Twenty-two of the last 23 Texas-Texas A&M showdowns have been played in front of a national television audience.

Texas A&M's 1957 Heisman Trophy winner, John David Crow, was on hand to congratulate Ricky Williams following the 1998 Longhorns-Aggies game in which Williams broke the NCAA all-time rushing record.

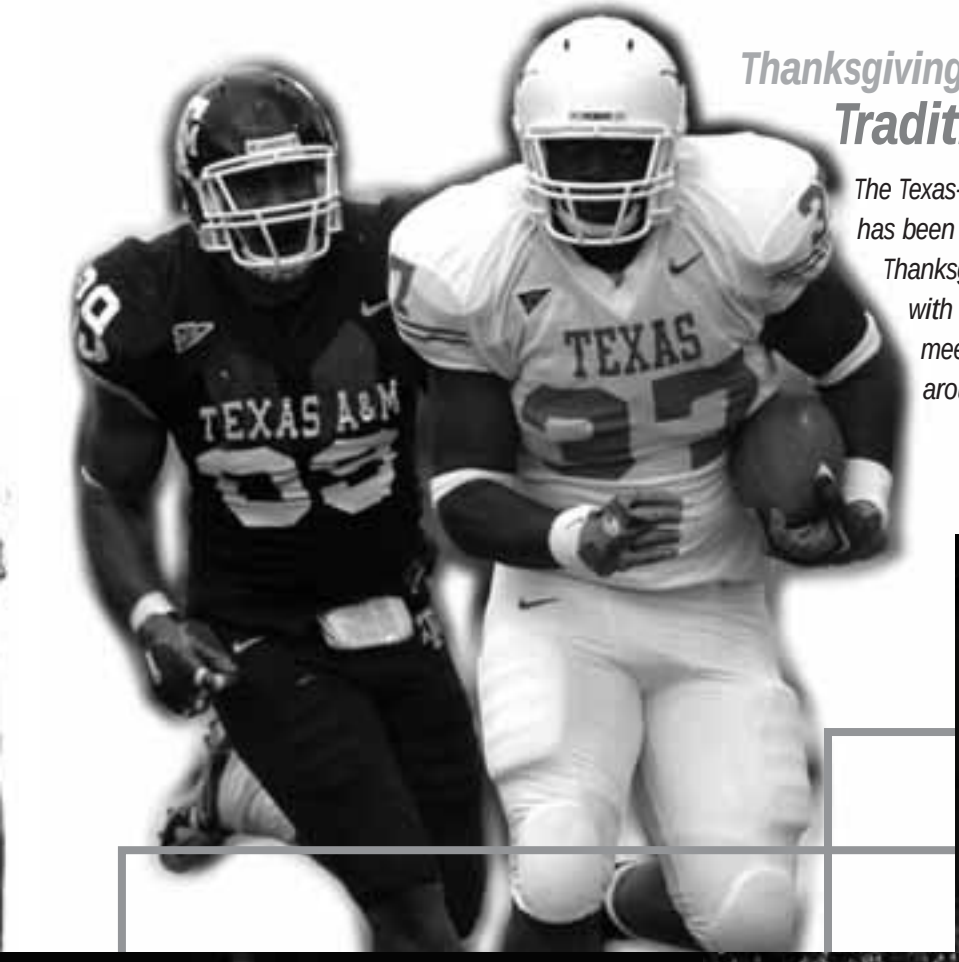
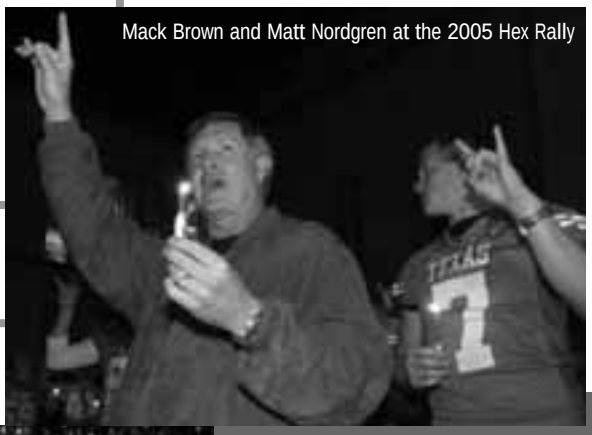
BIG-TIME RIVALRIES

In one of the nation's premier football rivalries, pride, honor and championships are on the line when Texas and Texas A&M meet. The third-most played rivalry in NCAA Division I history features two schools that are less than 100 miles apart in a series that dates back to 1894.

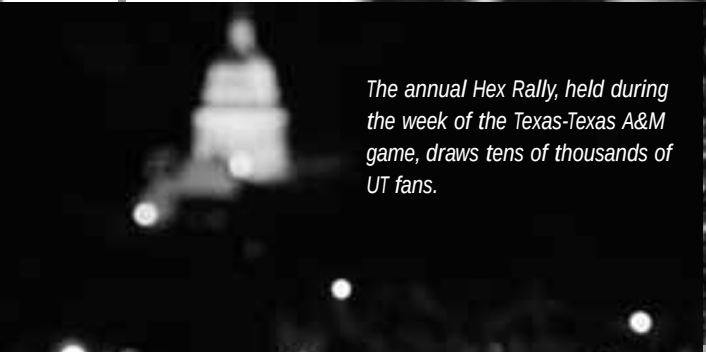


Thanksgiving Week Tradition

The Texas-Texas A&M rivalry has been an annual Thanksgiving holiday event with 66 of the 112 meetings held on or around Turkey Day.



Mack Brown and Matt Nordgren at the 2005 Hex Rally



The annual Hex Rally, held during the week of the Texas-Texas A&M game, draws tens of thousands of UT fans.

"It is a big rivalry game.

A lot of the guys on their team played with our guys in high school. It's about bragging rights. We can't look at the past. We can't look at their record. We can't look at our record. The game is all about now."

— Aaron Ross, senior cornerback

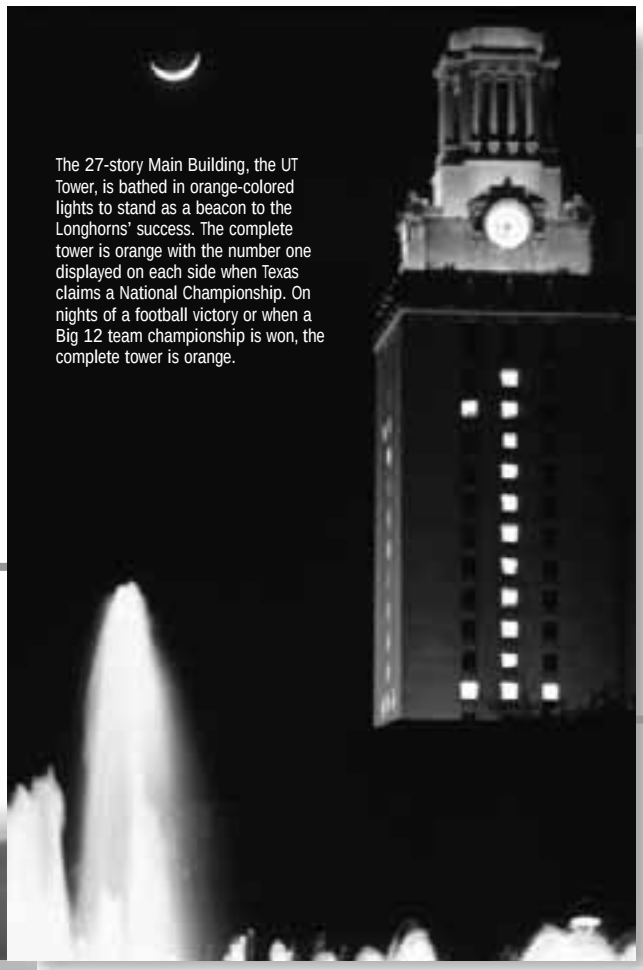
PEP RALLY

The annual Hex Rally ritual was started by a palm reader, who was asked by students to place a curse on the Aggies and end a UT losing streak. The Longhorns won the game, and the rally became an annual tradition. Each year before the post-Thanksgiving game, thousands of Longhorn fans, led by enthusiastic spirit groups, light candles and converge on the steps of UT's Main Building to hex the Aggies once again.

Proud Traditions

Texas' world-renowned

"Hook 'Em Horns" sign, created by head cheerleader Harley Clark in 1955, was voted the nation's top hand signal by Sports Illustrated. Last season, its 50th Anniversary was celebrated.



The 27-story Main Building, the UT Tower, is bathed in orange-colored lights to stand as a beacon to the Longhorns' success. The complete tower is orange with the number one displayed on each side when Texas claims a National Championship. On nights of a football victory or when a Big 12 team championship is won, the complete tower is orange.

In 2000, Ricky Williams (pictured with his mother, Sandy) joined Earl Campbell (right) as the only two Longhorns football players to have their numbers officially retired.

"I'm still burning orange."

— Priest Holmes, Longhorn standout running back and 2002 NFL Offensive Player of the Year

The honorary T-Ring is awarded to every football letterman upon graduation.

A thunderous roar is heard from "Smokey the Cannon" after each Longhorns score at Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium. Two blank 10-gauge shotgun shells ignite the scoring celebration.

The Longhorn:
A Tough Survivor

Bevo, a Texas Longhorn, has been a fixture at UT games since 1966. The Longhorns mascot epitomizes the pride and tradition of Texas Football. The Longhorn was an important part of the building of the American West. Brought to the North American continent by Spanish explorers, the breed has flourished for almost 500 years. With its roots on the hot, arid plains of South Texas, the Longhorn became a major food source for young America. First it survived with little grass and food to eat. In a world vulnerable to attack, its long horns and strong legs became effective weapons against wild animals looking for prey.

When the railroad made places such as Omaha and Kansas City chief stops for a nation moving west, cattlemen used the famed Chisolm Trail to drive their cattle to market. The 1,000-mile trek would take months, but while other breeds couldn't make it because of the long odds, the lean, mean Longhorn survived.

Independent, never tame, and always on guard, Longhorns grow to a ton or more, and the span of the great horns can reach six to nine feet. In the early 1900s, when The University of Texas was looking for a mascot, none fit better for the young college than the Longhorn — a breed apart because of its toughness and strength, determination to survive, and will to win against all odds.

The University of Texas Band, "The Show Band of the Southwest," owns the largest bass drum in the world. Introduced in 1955, Big Bertha measures 54 inches in diameter and weighs 500 pounds.

The Longhorns began wearing "Texas Orange" (burnt orange) in 1928.

"The feeling you get when you hear 'The Eyes of Texas' after a win is the best feeling you could ever have."

— Roy Williams, Longhorn All-American receiver and 2004 NFL first-round draft pick

Proud Traditions

GAMEDAY EXCITEMENT

Success on the gridiron is the biggest attraction in Austin, but the football game isn't the only tradition when it comes to The University of Texas and its weekly spectacle. A Texas football game is an event. Surrounded by the hoopla that most collegiate programs and athletes can only dream of, a Longhorns football game day is a memorable experience.

"You can't help but stand up and put up the Horns sign when they play 'The Eyes of Texas.' It takes you over. Whether you're in Orlando, Columbus, Detroit, Ann Arbor or wherever, you stand up and it gets into your heart and soul."

— Lee Corso, ESPN

"What you feel when you make the walk is the tradition of Texas Football. It's always touching us and around us. The chance to play football for Texas, you know you're representing tradition, a lotof great people. You have to give all you've got every time you take the field."

— Vince Young, former UT All-America QB and current Tennessee Titan earned a top 10 national ranking in ratings compiled in 1990 by Bill Studwell, a librarian at Northern Illinois University and self-styled fight song expert. He compiled a list of the most inspiring fight songs in the country, grading the pieces on music quality, lyrics and overall tone.

"Texas Fight"

The top 10 were:

1. Notre Dame
2. Michigan
3. Wisconsin

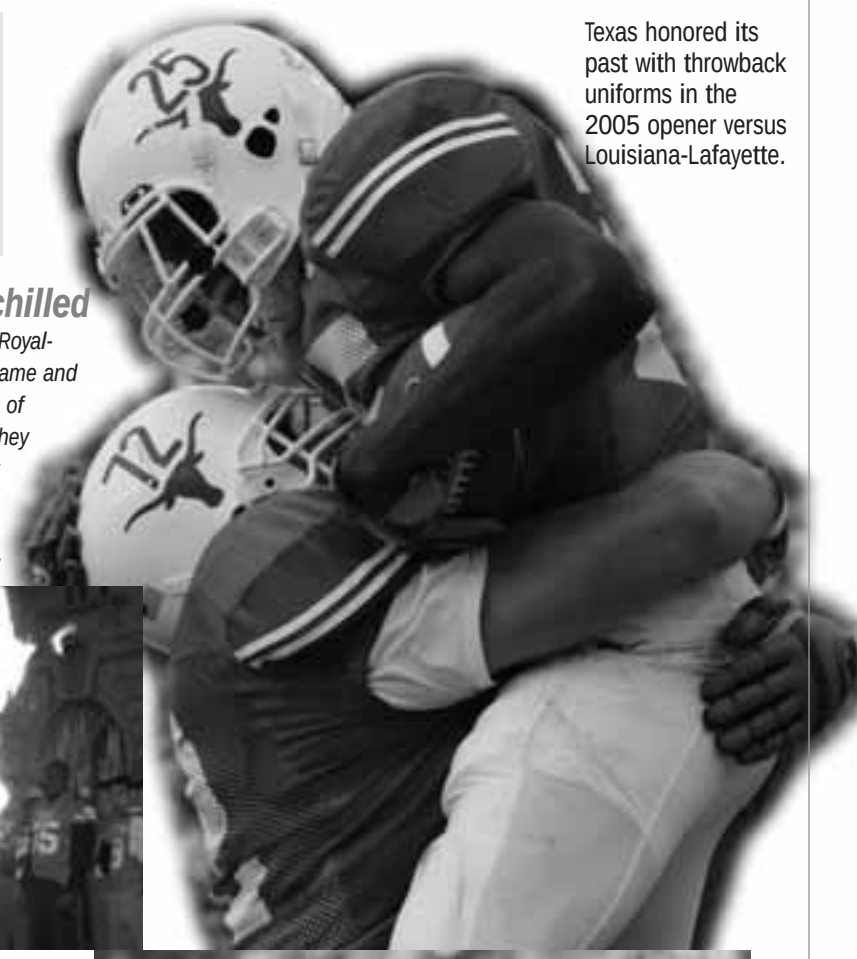
TEXAS FIGHT

Texas Fight! Texas Fight!
and it's goodbye to A&M.
Texas Fight! Texas Fight!
and we'll put over one more win.
Texas Fight! Texas Fight!
For it's Texas that we love best!
Give 'em Hell! Give 'em Hell!
Go, Horns, Go!
And it's goodbye to all the rest.

Yea Orange, Yea White,
Yea Longhorns, Fight-Fight-Fight!
Texas Fight, Texas Fight,
Yea Texas Fight!
Texas Fight, Texas Fight,
Yea Texas Fight!
(repeat chorus)



Texas honored its past with throwback uniforms in the 2005 opener versus Louisiana-Lafayette.

"You have not been chilled to the core until you have stood in Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium before a game and heard 80,000 voices sing 'The Eyes of Texas.' At game's end, win or lose, they sing it again. If hearing this doesn't nearly put you into an emotional heap, you are heart dead."

— Texas Football Today

"One of the best traditions here is walking out to the field and touching the horns. Then we run out onto the field through the smoke. There is nothing like it. You can't see anything, then all of the sudden you see 85,000 screaming fans cheering for you. Now that is a great tradition."

— Marcus Griffin, junior safety

Four-Time National Champions

Along with winning four national crowns, the Longhorns have spent 43 weeks ranked as the No. 1 team in the nation.

"At The University of Texas, our primary goal is to win the National Championship. We strive toward that goal every day. We work toward accomplishing that honor with a team full of nice kids who are having fun, graduating and preparing for successful lives after football."

— Mack Brown

"I'm so proud of what Coach Brown has accomplished. He and his staff are doing an outstanding job. Things have to fall into place for any team to win a National Championship but Mack has UT in position to get there every year."

— Bill Bradley, former Longhorn captain and NFL Pro Bowl performer

Vince Young and the Longhorns secured Texas' fourth National Championship with a 41-38 win over top-ranked USC in the Rose Bowl on January 4, 2006.

"As I have gotten older,

I realize just how lucky I was and how everything fell into place for me. I got to meet President Nixon after the Arkansas game in 1969 and President Johnson after the Notre Dame game that year. Later on, I went to Las Vegas and had the fortune to meet Elvis (Presley) backstage and Bill Medley of the Righteous Brothers. I look back and it all seems like a fairly tale."

2005 Big 12 Championship

#2 Texas vs. Colorado
Final score: 70-3

No. 2 Texas scored on 10 of its first 11 possessions en route to a 70-3 win over Colorado to claim the Longhorns' second Big 12 Championship and post the school's first-ever 12-victory season. It also secured the Horns a spot in the BCS National Championship game against USC, marking the first time since 1983 that the Horns entered their bowl game ranked No. 1 or No. 2 and with a potential national title on the line. UT set Big 12 championship records for points (70), TDs (10), extra points (10), completion percentage (84.2%/16-of-19) and tied the mark for first downs (26) in the win. The 67-point win was the third-largest margin of victory Colorado had ever allowed and the eighth-biggest victory (point-wise) on UT record. Texas registered 486 yards of offense to Colorado's 191. The 486 yards gave UT 6,101 total yards for the season, eclipsing the school record that was set in 2003 (5,709). The Longhorns' offensive attack tallied 268 yards on the ground and 218 through the air. Vince Young, who completed 14-of-17 passes (82.4%) for 193 yards and rushed for 57 yards on eight carries, accounted for four TDs. Limas Sweed caught five passes for a career-high 102 yards, including a 31-yard TD. Quan Cosby added a career-best four grabs for 52 yards, and David Thomas had three catches for 31 yards and a score. Facing the nation's second-ranked rushing defense, Texas ran for 268 yards and six TDs and saw three different runners score TDs. Jamaal Charles led the way with 62 yards and two scores. Defensively, Cedric Griffin led the way with seven stops and a forced fumble. Robert Killebrew also had seven tackles on the game. Michael Huff chipped in six stops, a PBU and a forced fumble. Michael Griffin registered five tackles, recovered a fumble, blocked a punt and broke up a pass.

"We worked so hard to win the Big 12. In the summertime, it was real hot out there, but we were still working hard, excited. Every time we broke it down, we were saying 'Big 12,' and we got there. Especially for me and Rod (Wright), coming from Houston, and it was a blessing to play in front of your family."

Texas' win in the Big 12 Championship marked the first 12-win season in school history.

"It was a great accomplishment for us to represent the Big 12 South at the Big 12 Championship. It's a goal that we focus on from the summer. We know that if we win the Big 12 Championship, we are competing for the National Championship. Our first goal was to get there, and it was special to come out with a victory."

Coming up roses

BIG 12 CHAMPIONSHIP

One for the Roses

Texas earned its second Big 12 title by defeating Colorado, 70-3. It marked Texas' highest point total since 1996, when the Longhorns defeated Oklahoma State, 71-14. The 67-point margin of victory was Texas' largest since a 68-0 win over West Virginia in 1977.

SWEET WIN

Austin American-Statesman

12 down; 1 to go

After capping a perfect regular season with a 70-3 win over Colorado in the Big 12 Championship, No. 2 Texas was set to play for its first National Championship since 1970. It marked the second consecutive BCS and Rose Bowl berth for the Longhorns.

2006 Rose Bowl

Staying Loose

It had begun here, on a surreal day in Pasadena, in the canyons of the San Gabriel Mountains. The sun had shone on the Rose Bowl Parade, despite dire predictions of rains, and as night came to the Arroyo Secca, Vince Young's star was rising over the canyon, and over all of college football.

The victory in the Longhorns' first-ever appearance in the Rose Bowl, in their first-ever game against Michigan, validated Texas as a power in college football once again.

The Longhorns followed that 38-37 victory, which closed out the 2004 season on January 1, 2005, with 12 straight wins during the 2005 campaign. UT finished the regular season unbeaten and No. 2 in the nation.

The upper floor of the ESPN Zone had every video and sports game the team could desire and was closed for the Longhorns visit and dinner.

A Visit to Disneyland

The ESPN Zone

Day one in Los Angeles saw Texas invade Disneyland. After an introduction to the Disney audience, a few interviews and a photo opportunity with the USC Trojans, the Longhorns made the park their own and took advantage of a beautiful California day before heading to the ESPN Zone for dinner and games.

Rod Wright, Ahmard Hall and Vince Young take in Disney's Jungle Cruise.

"Aside from the game,

I was looking forward to today the most. I always wanted to come to Disneyland as a child, but I was never able to. Being able to come out here like this and experience it is so much fun."

— Ahmard Hall, former UT starting fullback

Selvin Young is interviewed by ESPN's Steve Cyphers during bowl week preparation.

Of course, the Longhorns primary activity every day was practice, but day two featured a trip to famous Lawry's Steakhouse for the 50th annual Lawry's Beef Bowl, which provided as many cuts of 16-ounce prime rib as the team could handle.

2006 Rose Bowl

observed the final day of the year with another good practice at the Home Depot Center in Carson, Calif., where a steady light rain forced the team to an all-weather artificial turf practice field. Except for the damp conditions, however, Saturday was business as usual.

Selvin Young opens day three of gameweek at the morning press conference for the offense. The participating players and coaches are shuttled to practice.

"My confidence is extremely high,

We've got great coaches. They do a great job preparing us. We've also got a great team and great fans, and then you've got guys giving that extra effort to make a play. My confidence comes from the guys believing in me, the way I believe in them. Going back, and having fun like we did last year, we're not doing anything different. Whatever got us to 12-0 right now, we want to keep it like that. We don't want to change anything. We want to go out there and have fun and take care of business."

— Vince Young, two-time Rose Bowl MVP

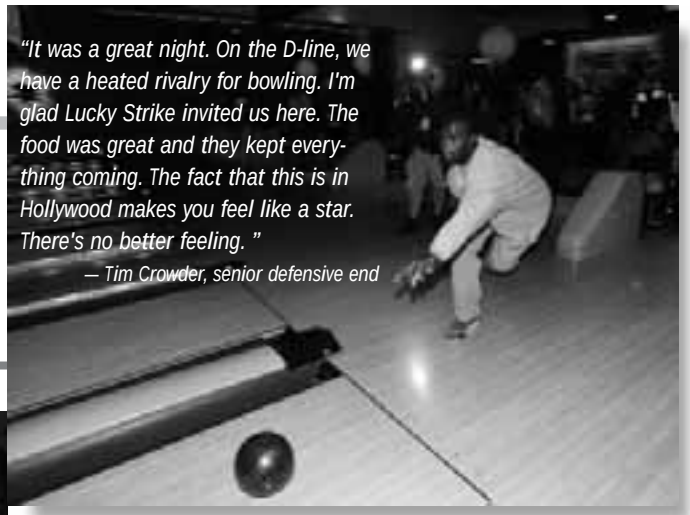
"I've wanted to play in the Rose Bowl since I was a little kid. Last year, I watched this game from the sidelines with a boot on. After the game was over, I just thought, 'I am going to do everything I can to get here next year.' It's like a storybook right now."

— Selvin Young, senior running back

ABC's Dan Fouts visitied Longhorn practice during the week.

Having Fun

Vince Young and Selvin Young helped manage the emotions of the team as they had fun and worked hard.



"It was a great night. On the D-line, we have a heated rivalry for bowling. I'm glad Lucky Strike invited us here. The food was great and they kept everything coming. The fact that this is in Hollywood makes you feel like a star. There's no better feeling."

— Tim Crowder, senior defensive end

The famous Lucky Strike bowling lanes in Hollywood played host to the Longhorns for dinner and bowling. Tim Crowder (above) and Rashad Bobino (left) take their turns.

Working Hard

2006 Rose Bowl

Days five and six came as complete opposites with the final full practice forced inside of the cycling arena at The Home Depot Center due to torrential rain. The next day, the sun could not have shined brighter for the Longhorns on picture day at the Rose Bowl, while Matthew McConaughey stopped by for a visit.

And

as the Gold Coast buses pulled onto the expanse of pavement in the canyon at the foothills of the San Gabriel mountains, sure enough, there it was: The Rose Bowl.

The Texas Longhorns returned to the most famous venue in college sports for a brief walk visit and photo session the day before the National Championship Rose Bowl Game against Southern California.

A year and a couple of days ago, they had left this space, looking back into the California night on the first day of 2005, seeking the Rose Bowl emblem glowing in the misty darkness.

The day's visit was the final official activity for the team before game day arrives, and they made the best of it. A church choir or a rap group could not have better acquitted themselves. As they stood on the risers in front of the stadium, they rocked, chanted, and generally announced to any and all in the area that they were loose and ready for some football.

The media day

featured eight Longhorns and coach Mack Brown, who then returned for one final media appearance at the Media Headquarters at the Beverly Hilton Hotel on Tuesday morning. Brown and four players, Ahmard Hall, Rod Wright, Aaron Harris and David Thomas, attended the Rose Bowl Hall of Fame Luncheon.

"I've envisioned that me and my guys, we're going to be pretty excited. We're going to be real pumped. We're going to not only give just USC, but the whole world, a good game."

— Vince Young at UT's media day is a game where you might be behind, so don't watch the scoreboard, just keep playing. If this game goes like people expect, it could be a last-minute game."

"I think that as a team, we really love each other and really bond with each other, and I think that's going to carry us the whole way."

— David Thomas at UT's media day

On Monday,

Texas had held its final practice in an interesing location...inside the veladrome at the expansive Home Depot Olympic Center. On a concrete floor surrounded by the high-banked wooden track, the team walked through its final drills in preparation for the game.

2005 National Champions

Final score: Texas 41, USC 38

"The Texas Longhorns, in winning against defending National Champion Southern California have certainly validated Coach Mack Brown and his program. This is a restatement of Texas' place in college football."

— Keith Jackson, ABC Sports

"It's just pure fun. That's what I like. (Vince Young) has fun doing it, his teammates rally around him, his coach lets him be himself, and the Longhorns are National Title holders."

— Dan Fouts, ABC Sports

Mack Brown gave his mother, Katherine, a National Championship for her birthday, January 4.

"Under a blizzard of multicolored confetti, in what had become a mosh pit on the field of the Rose Bowl on the night of Jan. 4, arguably the greatest athlete in the world seemed overwhelmed by the moment. 'Unbelievable,' Lance Armstrong, clad in a burnt orange T-shirt, repeated, over and over. 'This is just unbelievable.' Or was it? When a player is as transcendent, as ridiculously dominant as Texas quarterback Vince Young was against the USC Trojans...the Longhorns' breathtaking 41-38 victory is easily believable."

— Austin Murphy, Sports Illustrated

"This was the best performance

I could have imagined and I am just so excited to have been a part of it. This is such a special moment, seeing us with that trophy and I'm sure people are going crazy in Austin."

— David Thomas, former UT tight end

Vince Young was named the Offensive MVP for the second consecutive year, becoming only the fourth player in Rose Bowl history to do so, after posting a Rose Bowl-record 467 total yards, scoring three TDs and recording the sixth fourth-quarter comeback victory of his career. He finished his career at Texas with a record of 30-2. His .938 winning percentage is the sixth-best in NCAA history.

Celebrating the National Championship

The 2005 Longhorns returned home to their fans and celebrated the National Championship on January 15 as a crowd of more than 50,000 filled the lower bowl of Darrell K Royal-Texas Memorial Stadium.

George W. Bush invited the Texas football team to the White House on February 14 in honor of the team's 41-38 win over USC in the National Championship Game. The Longhorns came together early in the morning at Moncrief-Neuhaus Athletics Facility and took two charter planes to Washington, D.C., before returning late that evening.

"Mack can tell you what it takes to win, but one thing it takes is a team of great athletes playing together. That's how you win national championships. I suspect the difference between showing up and winning all but two and showing up and winning them all, is that people figured out how to put something greater than themselves on the line – in this case, The University of Texas football team."
